Annicia Kitching is a set decorator on international feature films and tv series. She resides in Cape Town building her career in set decorating and art directing. She has a passion to bring stories to life visually from script to camera whether it is a commercial , feature film or TV series. She was offered an opportunity to set decorate 10 Sets on the feature film "Last Days of American Crime" by Bobby Cardoso in 2018 for Netflix where she worked closely with production designer Sébastien Inizan and film director Olivier Megaton. In 2019 Annicia set decorated an international tv series by Most Media with Production Designer Johnny Breedt "The Professionals" with Director Bharat Nalluri in Johannesburg. Currently Annicia finished set decorating an 1850s period feature "Redeeming Love" in Cape Town with Production Designer Johnny Breedt for Pureflix and Advantage Entertainment. In 2015 Annicia started working on international commercials in Cape Town and build her way up working on commercial season and long form projects. As she turned her focus to set decorating the past year, she also art directs and prop masters commercials in between feature films. She take great pride in working with experienced mentors she looks up to, to break boundaries in achieving great story telling.
